The National Bar offers a stylish means of enjoying your evening – over cocktails, exquisite wines and snacks. Here, locals rub shoulders with visitors to the city while cool blends with classical. The selection of malt whiskies is the bar's calling card and rightly so, as it gives connoisseurs reason to rejoice. The National Bar has retained the original style of the 1870s and exudes the engaging charm of the turn of the century. Fashionable, stylish but also casual and deliciously relaxing – all this is on the menu in what is surely the most attractive bar in Lucerne.

The Café César, our coffee shop with a bistro feel under the direction of Walter Gisler, is a place where hotel guests and friendly, easy-going locals meet up to start their day in style. Coffee specialities accompanied by fresh croissants or home-made cakes are more than just insiders' tips. Throughout the day, you can enjoy exquisite wines – and why not a little smoked Scottish salmon and a crusty baguette?
